Telepass enables carbon avoidance

Technological tolling system infrastructure guarantees advantages compared to traditional infrastructure, both in terms of environmental benefits and better service for motorists thanks to greater flow optimization.

~ 45,000

Tons of CO2 avoided thanks to the use of Telepass tollbooths

~ 20,000,000

Liters of petrol avoided

Forecast of the study carried out on the entire Italian national motorway based on the kilometers traveled annually.

METHODOLOGY

Research in partnership with the Ca 'Foscari University of Venice, which provided for the application of a scientific mathematical model based on traffic data travelled annually and km of motorway of the ASPI network and the Brescia-Padua motorway section projected on the entire Italian tolling motorway, thanks to the adoption of separate lanes dedicated to Telepass technology at the motorway tollbooths.

BENEFITS

Reduction of:

- carbon footprint of the transport sector
- air pollution
- noise pollution
- road congestion
- health costs
